Lineage.

This family was established for a long series of ge tions at Montauban, in Languedoc, France. By docum that escaped the persecution to which the Protest were exposed towards the end of the sixteenth cent and are now extant, in the Heralds Office, we enabled to go back as far as PIERRE DE PECHELS, B of La Boissonade and St. Cran Barré, who, to exone himself from the national burdens (from which the noblesse were exempt), produced a certificate, b ing date June 18, 1547, to prove his descent, to secure himself and family from those requisitions which every subject of inferior rank was exposed.
Pierre m. Louise, dau. of De Fumel. Their eldest son,

JEAN HORACE DE PECHELS, m. 16 July, 1575, Isab
dau. of de Prevost. Their eldest son,

SAMUEL DE PECHELS, m. 9 Dec. 1614, Rachel de Vale of a noble family in Guienne, and was father of

JEAN HORACE DE PECHELS, m. 27 Jan. 1643, Jeanne la Lauze, of the province of Quercy. Their only son,

SAMUEL DE PECHELS, b. 1644, m. to the Marquise Thie de Sabonnierres, was forced to fly on the revocation of edict of Nantes, leaving behind him two daus., who been placed in a convent, and educated in the Ron catholic faith, and who received from LOUIS XIV. a gr of their father's lands. These ladies m. the one M.
Cahuzac, and the other, M. de St. Sardos, of Castle Se sin; and their estates are still in the possession of th descendants. M. de Pechels settled in Ireland, where lived many years, supported by a pension granted by K WILLIAM III., and by considerable remittances from daughters. A full account of M. de Pechel's sufferings, w a translation of his manuscript memoir, is to be found the volume published by the Sussex Archæological Soci in 1875. His only son,

JACOB PECHELL, Esq., b. in 1679, embraced the milit profession, and served in Spain and Flanders. The variat in the name took place in the time of Colonel Jacob Péchels, who had his name mis-spelt as "Pechell" in War Office commission; and the error was never afterwa corrected. He m. Jane, dau. of John Boyd, Esq., and h

IV. Lilias, m. David, Master of Crawford.
V. Katherine, m. John, 1st Earl of Tullibardine.
VI. Mary, m. Sir James Stirling, of Keir.

The eldest son,

PATRICK, 3rd Lord Drummond, m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of David, 9th Earl of Crawford ; 2ndly, Agnes, dau. and co-heir of Sir John Drummond, of Innerpeffry, widow of Hugh 3rd Earl of Eglinton, s. p., and had, by his first marriage.

I. JAMES, 4th Lord Drummond.
II. JOHN, 2nd Earl of Perth.
I. Katherine, m. James, Master of Rothes.
II. Lilias, m. Alexander, Earl of Dunfermline.
III. Jean, m. Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburghe.
IV. Elizabeth, m. Alexander, 5th Lord Elphinstone.
V. Anne, m. 1st, Patrick Barclay, of Towie; 2ndly, Andrew Fraser, of Murthil.

The elder son,

JAMES, 4th Lord Drummond, attended the Earl of Nottingham, High Admiral of England, on his embassy to the Spanish Court; was created EARL OF PERTH, with remainder to his heirs male whatsoever, by patent dated 4 March, 1605. He d. 18 Dec. 1611, having m. Isabel, dau. of Robert, 1st Earl of Winton, by whom he had an only dau. Jean, who m. 1632, John, 13th Earl of Sutherland.

JOHN, 2nd Earl of Perth, who s. his brother; m. Jean, eldest dau. of Robert, 1st Earl of Roxburghe, by whom he had, JAMES, his successor ; John, of Logie-Almond ; and William, 2nd Earl of Roxburghe (see that title) ; and two daus., Jean, m. to John, 3rd Earl of Wigtoun ; and Lilias, m. to James, Earl of Tullibardine. The eldest son, JAMES, 3rd Earl of Perth, m. Lady Anne Gordon, dau. of George, Marquess of Huntly, by whom he had two sons, James and John (of whom hereafter as Earl or Duke of Melfort), and Anne Countess of Erroll.

JAMES, the eldest son, succeeded as 4th Earl of Perth, in 1675; he was married three times; 1st, to Lady Jane Douglas, dau. of the 1st Marquess of Douglas, who was mother of James, Lord Drummond, his heir (attainted in 1715); 2ndly, to Lilias Drummond, dau. of James Drummond, of Machany, and widow of the Earl of Tullibardine, by whom he had JOHN ; and 3rdly, to Lady Mary Gordon, relict of Adam Urquhart, of Meldrum, who d. 10 Nov. 1684, dau. of Lewis, Marquess of Huntly, who was mother of Edward Drummond, in whom the Perth branch ended in 1760. The Earl of Perth was chancellor of Scotland, and was created DUKE OF PERTH by JAMES II., at St. Germains, in 1695, with the same limitation as the earldom ; that title was confirmed in France by LOUIS XIV., in 1701, on the death of King JAMES, at the same time as the titles of the Dukes of Berwick, Fitzjames, Albemarle, and Melfort. His lordship d. at St. Germains, 11 May, 1716, and was s. by his son, James, Lord Drummond, who was styled 2nd Duke of Perth, and who, on account of his attainder, as Lord Drummond, in 1715, could not succeed to the Earldom of Perth, which became then legally dormant. His 3rd wife d. at St. Germains, March, 1726. This

JAMES, Lord Drummond, attainted in 1715, 2nd Duke of Perth, m. Lady Jane Gordon, dau. of the 1st Duke of Gordon, by whom he had two sons, JAMES, and JOHN. He d. at Paris in 1720, and was s. by the elder,

JAMES, 3rd Duke of Perth, who was wounded at the battle of Culloden, and d. unm. during his passage over to France, on board the French frigate "La Bellone," 13 May, 1746. He was attainted in that year, but the attainder did not take effect upon him on account of his death, but it did upon his brother, Lord John Drummond, who had been included in the same act of attainder, as "the person taking upon himself the rank and style of Duke of Perth, and the person taking upon himself the rank and style of Lord John Drummond." This

LORD JOHN DRUMMOND, in whom the Drummond estates became forfeited in 1746, d. without issue in 1747. It was for him that the regiment of Royal Scotch, in the French service, was raised. He was s. by his uncle,

JOHN DRUMMOND, 5th Duke of Perth, who d. without issue in 1757; his last brother,

EDWARD, succeeded, but d. without issue in 1760, and in him ended all the male descendants of James, 4th Earl of Perth, at whose demise, in 1716, the earldom became dormant, on account of the previous attainder of his son, Lord Drummond. The representation of the Earldom of Perth thereupon reverted to his second cousin,

JAMES DRUMMOND, of Lundin, grandson (by his 1st wife, Sophia, heiress of Lundin) of John Drummond, afterwards Earl and Duke of Melfort, who was 2nd son of James, 3rd Earl of Perth. This James Lundin assumed the name of DRUMMOND, and became chief of that house; he was served heir male general to the last earl in Edinburgh in 1766, and thereupon assumed the title of Earl of Perth. He m. Lady Rachel Bruce, and had a son,

JAMES DRUMMOND, 11th Earl of Perth, to whom the Drummond estates were presented (under the terms of the Act of Restoration of 1784 in favour of the heirs male of the old investitures) in 1785, by the court of session and parliament, he being the then nearest male heir of Lord John Drummond, in whom the estates became forfeited in 1746; and was created a British peer, as Lord Perth, in 1797; he d. in July, 1800, leaving an only dau., Sarah-Clementina Drummond, Lady Willoughby de Eresby, who d. 26 Jan. 1865. At his lordship's decease, the representation of the Earldom of Perth, which is limited to heirs male whatsoever, reverted to

JAMES LEWIS,* 4th Earl and Duke of Melfort, great-grandson of John Drummond, Earl and Duke of Melfort, by his 2nd wife, Euphemia Wallace, as 12th Earl of Perth, who d. Sept. 1800, and was s. by his brother,

CHARLES-EDWARD DRUMMOND, 5th Earl and Duke of Melfort and 13th Earl of Perth, who, in 1803, soon after Baron Perth's death, began proceedings in the Court of Session for the recovery of the lands, lordship, and barony of Drummond and earldom of Perth; but not having been able to be served heir male of the earls of Perth, his action was dismissed in 1808, as he could produce no title by service, and being a Roman Catholic prelate, he could not his claim before the House of Lords. He d. at Ro 1840, and was s. by his nephew (the only son of his dec younger brother, Leon Maurice, by Luce Elizabeth de guemare, his wife),

Lineage.

Fuller says, that the Pilkingtons were originally of Rivington, co. Lancaster, and a right ancient family; that they were gentlemen of repute in the shire before the Conquest, at which time, the chief of the house being sought after by the Norman soldiery, was fain to disguise himself as a thrasher in a barn; from which circumstance, partly alluding to the head of the flail falling sometimes on the one, and sometimes on the other side, and occasionally on him self, he took for the motto of his arms "Now thus! now thus!" The first of the family we find upon record is

THOMAS PILKINGTON, Esq. of Nether Bradley, co. York, the 12th in lineal descent from the 1st Leonard), m. Barbara, dau. of Lionel Reresby, Esq. of Thriberg, near Rotherham, and was s. by his son, Southampton, M.A., D.L., M.P. for Barnstaple, 1880 to 1885, and for North Devon 1885 to 1892, b. 19 Jan. 1856; s. his father as 6th earl, 1891; m. 17 Feb. 1885, Beatrice-Mary, dau. and heir of Edward Pease, Esq. of Darlington and Bewdley, and niece of Sir Joseph-Whitwell Pease, 1st bart.

Lineage.

This family was settled at Wallop, co. Hants, at a period antecedent to the Conquest; and it is thus noticed by Camden: "The Test having taken into it a little river from Wallop, or more truly Well-hop; that is, by interpretation out of our forefathers' language, a pretty well in the side of a hill, whereof that right worshipful family of the Wallops, of knight's degree, dwelling hard by, took name."

ALICE WALLOP, only dau. and heir of Sir Richard Wallop, grandson of Matthew de Wallop, living temp. King JOHN, m. Peter de Barton, lord of West Barton, co. Southampton; and her grandson and heir having assumed the name of WALLOP, inherited as

RICHARD DE WALLOP; and was returned to parliament for the co. Southampton in the 2nd year of EDWARD III. He m. Alice, dau. of Sir John Husee, Knt. of Betchworth Castle, co. Surrey, and was s. by his eldest son,

THOMAS WALLOP, who m. in the 16th of EDWARD III., Margaret Wellington, and was s. by his son,

JOHN WALLOP, M.P. for Salisbury, temp. HENRY IV. He m. Avice, dau. of John Buck, and had a son,

Thomas, who m. Margaret, dau. and heir of NICHOLAS VALOYNES, Lord of Farley and Clydesden, co. Southampton, and left, with three younger sons, at his decease, in the lifetime of his father, JOHN, successor to his grandfather.

John Wallop d. 16th HENRY VI., and was s. by his grandson,

JOHN WALLOP, who inherited the estates of the VALOYNES through his mother, and made the manor-house of Farley his chief residence, as it was of his descendants, until destroyed by fire in the year 1667. It was rebuilt in 1733, by John, 1st Earl of Portsmouth. This John Wallop was sheriff of the co. Southampton in the 33rd of HENRY VI. and in the 1st of EDWARD IV., in the 12th year of which latter monarch he represented the co. of Southampton in parliament. He was s. by his son,

RICHARD WALLOP, Esq., who m. Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Hampton, of Old Stoke, co. of Southampton; but having no issue was s. by his brother,

SIR ROBERT WALLOP, Knt.; at whose decease s. p., the estates devolved upon (the eldest son of his brother Stephen, by a dau. of Hugh Ashley, Esq. of Wimborne, St. Giles) his nephew,

Sir John Wallop, Knt., an eminent military and diplomatic personage in the reign of Henry VIII., who was installed a knight of the Garter in 1544. Sir John m. twice, but having no issue, his estates passed at his decease, in the 5th year of Edward VI., to his brother,

Sir Oliver Wallop, Knt., so created for his gallant conduct at the great battle of Musselborough, in 1547. He m. 1st, Bridget, dau. of Pigot of Beechampton, Bucks, by whom he had three sons and a dau., Rose, who m. Walter Lambert, Esq. Sir Oliver m. 2ndly, Anne, dau. of Robert Martin, Esq. of Athelhampston, in Dorsetshire, and widow of Thomas Tregonwell, Esq., and had two other sons and two daus. He was s. at his decease by his eldest son,

Sir Henry Wallop, Knt., vice-treasurer and treasurer-of-war in Ireland in the reign of Queen Elizabeth. This gentleman was constituted by her majesty, in 1582 (in conjunction with Lord Grey, of Wilton, and Adam Loftus, Archbishop of Dublin, and lord-chancellor), lord-justice of Ireland. Upon Sir Henry's return to England, he had the honour of entertaining Queen Elizabeth, anno 1591, for some days, with her court, at Farley Wallop. This gentleman obtained considerable estates in Ireland, and, amongst others, the castle, manor, and abbey of Enniscorthy. He d. 14 April, 1599, and the inscription to his memory in St. Patrick's Church, Dublin, records that, during his government in Ireland, the wars of Desmond terminated, and that the head of that nobleman was sent into England. Sir Henry was s. by his eldest son (by Catherine, dau. of Richard Gifford, Esq.),

Sir Henry Wallop, Knt., who m. Elizabeth, only dau. and heir of Robert Corbet, Esq. of Morton Corbet, by whom he acquired the manor and noble seat of Red Castle, and divers other lordships and manors in Salop, and had one son and five daus. He d. 5 Nov. 1624, and was s. by his son, Robert Wallop, Esq., M.P. for the co. of Southampton, and subsequently for Andover. This gentleman taking an active part against Charles I., was named one of the unhappy monarch's judges, and he sat as such in the Painted Chamber, but did not sign the warrant for the king's execution. At the Restoration, the parliament excepted him from receiving any benefit from his estate, &c.; and being brought to the bar of the House, he was sentenced to be degraded of his gentility, drawn upon a sledge to, and under the gallows of, Tyburn, with a halter round his neck, and to be imprisoned for life, which sentence was put in force, 30 Jan. 1662. He d. in the Tower of London, 16 Nov. 1667, and was s. in his estates by his son (by Anne, dau. of Henry Wriothesley, Earl of Southampton),

Henry Wallop, Esq., M.P. for Whitchurch in the first parliament of Charles II., who m. Dorothy, youngest dau. and co-heir of John Bluet, Esq. (which John was lineally descended from Sir William Bluet, living in the time of the Conqueror); and dying 25 Jan. 1678-9, was s. by his eldest surviving son,

Henry Wallop, Esq., who was s. by his brother,

John Wallop, Esq. This gentleman m. Alicia, dau. and co-heir of William Borlase, Esq. of Great Marlow, co. Buckingham, and dying in 1694, was s. by his eldest son,

The eldest son,

ROBERT CLIVE, to whom England, in a great measure, owes the establishment of her dominion in India, was born at Styche, 29 Sept. 1725. In 1744 he entered the Civil Service E.I.C. In 1747 he quitted the civil for the military service of the Company. His first distinction was at the siege of Pondicherry, and at the attack of Devi Cotah, where as a lieutenant he commanded the forlorn hope that stormed the breach. In 1751 he took the city of Arcot. On his return to India he found the whole nation aroused by the atrocity of the Black Hole of Calcutta. Clive terribly avenged the deed on its perpetrator, the Surajah Dowlah, Subah of Bengal. He stormed Calcutta, and once master of it, brought the Surajah to immediate terms. He then entered into a plot to dethrone him, and with reckless energy carried out the conspiracy, the success of which was achieved by the famous battle of Plassey, fought the 23rd June, 1757, Clive there, with 3,000 men, utterly routed the Surajah Dowlah, at the head of troops amounting to 70,000. Clive became Governor of Calcutta, and then turning his arms against the Dutch defeated them by sea and land, and compelled them to a treaty of infinite benefit to the East India Company. In 1761 Clive was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, 15 March, 1762, as Baron Clive of Plassey, co. Clare; his knighthood of the Bath dates in 1764. He was M.P. for Shrewsbury, 1760 to 1774. His untimely and lamented death was the work of his own hand, while in a fit of temporary insanity. Lord Clive m. 15 March, 1753, at Madras, Margaret, dau. of Edmund Maskelyne, Esq., 3rd son of Nevill Maskelyne, Esq. of Purton, co. Wilts (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry), and left,

Lineage.

The family of Radcliffe, one of decidedly Saxon origin, took its name from the village of Radcliffe, in Lancashire.

WILLIAM RADCLYFFE was seated at Radclyffe Tower, and was sheriff of Lancashire in 1194. He m. Cecilia Montebegon, Lady of Kirkland, and was great-grandfather of

RICHARD DE RADCLIFFE, of Radcliffe Tower, co. Lancaster, Seneschal and Minister of the forests of Blackburnshire, who accompanied King EDWARD I. in his wars in Scotland, and received from that prince, in the 32nd year of his reign, a grant of a charter of free warren and free chace, in all his demesne lands of Radclyffe, &c. He m. a dau. of Boteler of Bewsey, Baron of Warrington, and had issue, I. ROBERT, of Radclyffe Tower, ancestor of the RADCLYFFES of Smithills, Tingrave, &c.; II. WILLIAM, of Culceth and Edgworth, and afterwards of Radcliffe Tower, usually styled the Great William, ancestor of the extinct EARLS OF SUSSEX, the EARLS OF DERWENTWATER, &c., and of the RADCLYFFES of Langley, of whom we have to treat; III. JOHN (Sir), of Ordshall, Lancashire, ancestor of the RADCLYFFES of Ordshall and Foxdenton. Fifth in descent from William of Culceth, was JAMES RADCLYFFE, of Radclyffe Tower, whose 2nd son, JAMES RADCLYFFE, Esq., purchased the manor of Langley, co. Lancaster, temp. EDWARD IV., and there his descendants became seated.

WILLIAM RADCLYFFE, Esq., 7th in descent from James, 1st of Langley, settled himself at Milnsbridge, co. York, in right of his wife, Elizabeth, relict of John Dawson, Esq. of that place: by her he left, at his decease, 20 May, 1748,

I. WILLIAM, his heir.
II. Charles, of the city of York, who m. Francina, dau. and co-heir of Richard Town, M.D., and left three daus.
I. MARY, who m. Joseph Pickford, Esq. of Alt Hill, co. Lancaster, descended from an old Macclesfield family, and was mother of

JOSEPH PICKFORD, who assumed the surname of RADCLIFFE, and was created a BARONET in 1813.

The elder son,

WILLIAM RADCLIFFE, Esq. of Milnsbridge House, lieut.-col. of the West York Militia, d. unm. 26 Sept. 1795, age 85, having devised his estates to his nephew,

I. JOSEPH PICKFORD, Esq., b. 8 May, 1744, who assumed the surname and arms of RADCLIFFE only, by royal permission, 19 Dec. 1795, in compliance with the testamentary injunction of his uncle, and was created a Baronet 2 Nov. 1813 (with the singular favour of a gratuitous patent), in requital of his prompt and judicious exertions as a magistrate during a period of insubordination, danger, and alarm, in the year 1812. Lineage.

This family is maternally descended from

SIR JOHN RAMSAY, Knt. of Balmain and Fasque, co. Kincardine, who was created by JAMES III. a lord of parliament in 1433, and sat under the title of LORD BOTHWELL. Adhering, however, to his unfortunate sovereign, against whom the nobles of Scotland rebelled, his lordship was outlawed, and his estates subjected to confiscation, in 1488, by the 1st parliament of JAMES IV., while that monarch conferred the dignity of Earl of Bothwell upon Hepburn, Lord Hailes, whose descendant became the third husband of MARY, Queen of Scots, and was the last of his family that enjoyed the peerage. In 1498, the disgraced lord received, however, a royal pardon, but under the simple designation of John Ramsay; and he obtained, at the same time, some lands in the cos. of Forfar and Wigtoun; which favours were followed by a charter, in 1510, of the Barony of Balmain. The grandson of this personage,

GILBERT RAMSAY, Esq., was created a Baronet of Nova Scotia, 3 Sept. 1625, and the title passed, in regular succession, to

SIR ALEXANDER RAMSAY, the 6th bart., at whose death, 11 Feb. 1806, it passed to his kinsman and heir-at-law, READY.

READY, LORD (Sir Donald-James Mackay, G.C.S.I., G.C.I.E., LL.D.), of Reay, co. Caithness, in Scotland, Baron Reay, of Durness, co. Sutherland, in the United Kingdom, a Baronet of Nova Scotia, and Baron Mackay, of Ophemert, in Holland, Lord-Lieut. of Roxburghshire, D.L. co. Berwick, Governor of Bombay, 1885–90, and Under Sec. of State for India 1894-95; b. 22 Dec. 1839; s. his father as 11th Lord Reay, 6 March, 1876; was naturalized in 1877, by Act of Parliament (40 and 41 Vict., cap. 1), and was created a peer of the United Kingdom, 8 Oct. 1881; m. 5 June, 1877, Fanny-Georgiana-Jane, C.I., dau. of Richard Hasler, Esq. of Aldingbourne, Sussex, and widow of Alexander Mitchell, Esq., M.P., of Stow, Midlothian, capt. gren. guards.

Lineage.

ODO MACKY, descended from Angus Dow Macky, (who is styled leader of 4000 Mackys of Strathnaver), obtained extensive territorial grants in the counties of Caithness and Sutherland in 1499 and 1507. He fell at Flodden, and was s. by his son,

JOHN MACKY, who was s. by his brother,

DONALD MACKY, who was at the battle of Solway Moss, and returned to Edinburgh with the king three days after the conflict, when his majesty bestowed upon him the forfeited lands of several individuals, by charter, dated 28 Nov. 1542. He d. in 1565, and was s. by his son,

Y MACKY, who obtained his father's lands from the Earl of Huntly, to whom they had been granted by the crown. He had several conflicts with the Earl of Sutherland, to whom surrendering himself in 1556, he was sent prisoner to the castle of Edinburgh. Being released, he returned to Strathnaver. He m. Christian, dau. of William Sinclair, of Dun, and had a son, HUGH MACKY, who m. 1st, Lady Elizabeth Sinclair, 2nd dau. of George, 4th Earl of Caithness, by whom he had an only child, Christian, m. to John Macintosh, of Dalzell. ROTHES.

ROTHES, EARL OF (Norman-Evelyn Leslie), and Baron Leslie and Ballenbreich, in Scotland, lieut. 4th batt. Devonshire regt.; b. 15 July, 1877; s. his grandmother 19 Sept. 1893.

Lineage.

MALCOLM, son of BARTOLF, was in the 12th century constable of the Castle of Inverury, in the Garioch, which he held for David, Earl of Huntingdon; and the office continued to be held by his descendants. His great-grandson,

SIR NORMAN LESLIE, of that ilk, acquired Fythkill, in Fife, afterwards called Leslie, about 1282, and was father of,

SIR ANDREW LESLIE, who m. Mary, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Alexander Abernethy, of Abernethy, with whom he got Ballinbreich, in Fife, and Cairnie, in Forfar. He had issue,

I. Sir Andrew (1325-53), father of Sir Andrew (1353-98). This last Sir Andrew had a son, Norman, to whom his father resigned part of his estates (Ballinbreich, Lour, Dunlopy, Cushny, and Rothynorman), reserving his own liferent, and who d. s. p. 1391, having had a son, David, who was believed to have been killed in the holy wars. Norman, supposing his son to be dead, entailed the estates of which he was fiar, failing his male issue, on his cousin, Sir George Leslie (ancestor of the Rothes family), a settlement ratified by the crown in 1390. In 1398, about the time of Sir Norman's death, David returned home and claimed possession of the estates. He d. 1439, leaving a dau., Margaret, who inherited the original Leslie property, m. Alexander Leslie, of the Balquhain branch, and was ancestress of a line of Leslies, of that ilk, in Garioch.
II. Norman, deputy chamberlain of Scotland, m. Margaret, granddau. and heiress of Alexander of Lamberton, and d. s. p.
III. ——— ancestor of the Earls of Rothes.
IV. Walter, Earl of Ross, by marriage with the countess Euphemia, grandmother of the nun-countess Euphemia, and mother of Margaret, through whom the Lords of the Isles were recognized as in right to the earldom of Ross.
V. George, ancestor of the Leslies of Balquhain.

The third son of Sir Andrew Leslie and Mary Abernethy, whose name has not been preserved, was father of

SIR GEORGE LESLIE, the heir of entail in Ballinbreich as above explained, who however was kept out of possession, first by Sir Andrew's liferent, and then by the unexpected return of David Leslie. He was, however, in possession of Rothes in Moray (whether by marriage, succession, or purchase) in 1390; and he d. 1411, having m. Elizabeth, dau. of Sir Thomas Hay, of Erroll, Constable, and granddau. of ROBERT II., by whom he had,

Lineage.

Dugdale states that the ancestors of this noble family were "persons of great note in Northumberland, for in 25 HENRY II., Henry de Maners paid 80 marks for livery of his father's lands in that county," and Edmondson, in his Baronagium, deduces the pedigree from

SIR ROBERT DE MANNERS, Knt., Lord of the Manor of Ethale (now Etal), co. Northumberland.

SIR ROBERT DE MANNERS, Knt., of Etal, was in the 17th EDWARD II., returned into Chancery among the principal persons in the co. Northumberland certified to bear arms by descent from their ancestors. This Sir Robert signalized himself by the defence of Norham Castle, of which he was governor in the 1st year of EDWARD III. In the 14th year of the same King EDWARD, Sir Robert served in Parliament for the co. Northumberland. In the next year he obtained royal permission to strengthen and embattle his mansion of Ethale with a wall made of stone and lime, and in that year was commissioned, with others, to treat with David Bruce and his adherents about a peace. Sir Robert m. Joane, dau. and heir of Sir Henry Strother, Knt. of Newton-Glendall; and dying in 1355, was s. by his son,

Sir John Manners, Knt., of Etal, who m. Alice. widow of William Whytchestre, Esq. of Whitchester, co. Northumberland, and had three sons, 1 John, his heir; 2 Robert, of Bassington, same co.; and 3 Gilbert. The eldest son,

Sir John Manners, Knt. of Etal, was sheriff co. Northumberland, 1413. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir John Middleton, Knt., and had two sons, 1 Robert, his heir; 2 John, who served under Richard Nevill, Earl of Warwick and Salusbury, and d. June, 1492. Sir John d. 6 Sept. 1438, and was s. by his eldest son,

Sir Robert Manners, Knt. of Etal, 28 Henry VI. He was one of the conservators of the truce then made with the Scots. He m. Joane, dau. of Sir Robert Ogle, and was father of,

Sir Robert Manners, Knt. of Etal, sheriff co. Northumberland in the 33rd of Henry VI., and M.P. for that co. in five years afterwards. In the 3rd and 4th years of Edward IV., he was again sheriff of Northumberland, an office of great power and profit prior to the reign of Edward IV. This Sir Robert m. Eleanor, eldest sister and co-heir of Edmund, Lord Ros, of Hamlake, Triesbut, and Belvoir, who d. 13 Oct. 1508, and dau. of Thomas, Lord Ros, to which barony her ladyship succeeded, and to considerable possessions, which devolved upon her husband, with Belvoir Castle, co. Lincoln, built by Robert de Todenci, a noble Norman. The issue of this marriage were two sons and three daus., viz.,

His lordship acted as Plenipotentiary to the Congress of Berlin, 1878.

Lineage.

The founder of this branch of the Cecil family,

ROBERT CECIL (youngest son of William Cecil, Lord Burleigh, Queen ELIZABETH's celebrated High-Treasurer, by his 2nd wife, Mildred, dau. of Sir Anthony Cooke), who received the honour of knighthood in 1601, was sworn of the privy council, appointed secretary of state, and subsequently master of the Court of Wards in the reign of ELIZABETH, but did not attain the honours of the peerage until after the accession of JAMES I., when he was created 13 May, 1603, Baron Cecil, of Essendine, co. Rutland; advanced to the Viscounty of Cranborne, co. Dorset, 20 Aug. 1604; and created Earl of Salisbury, 4 May, 1605; during which periods he continued secretary of state, but succeeded subsequently, at the decease of the Earl of Dorset, to the lord-high treasurership. The Earl of Salisbury m. Elizabeth, sister of the unhappy Henry Brooke, Lord Cobham, and d. worn out with business, 24 May, 1612. In his last illness, he was heard to say to Sir Walter Cope, "Ease and pleasure quake to hear of death; but my life, full of cares and miseries, desireth to be dissolved." He had written a letter in 1603 to Sir James Harington, the poet, in much the same tone. "Good Knight," saith the minister, "rest content, and give heed to one that hath sorrowed in the bright lustre of a court, and gone heavily on even the best-seeming fair ground. 'Tis a great task to prove one's honesty and yet not mar one's fortune. You have tasted a little thereof in our blessed queen's time, who was more than a man, and, in truth, sometimes less than a woman. I wish I waited now in your presence-chamber, with ease at my food and rest in my bed. I am pushed from the shore of comfort, and know not where the winds and waves of a court will bear me. I know it bringeth little comfort on earth; and he is, I reckon, no wise man that looketh this way to heaven." His lordship was s. by his only son,

WILLIAM, 2nd earl, K.G. This nobleman m. in Dec. 1608, Catherine, youngest dau. of Thomas Howard, Earl of Suffolk, and was s. at his decease by his grandson,

Lineage.

LAURENCE ABERNETHY, of Saltoun and Rothemay, 11th in descent from ORM, lay abbot of Abernethy, in Perthshire, 1164, was created a peer 28 June, 1445, from him the title descended to

ALEXANDER, 9th lord; who sold the estate of Saltoun, in 1643, to Sir Andrew Fletcher; and dying in 1669, without issue, the peerage devolved upon his heir of line,

SIR ALEXANDER FRASER, of Philorth, as 10th lord (son of Margaret, wife of Sir Alexander Fraser, of Philorth, and eldest dau. of the 7th lord); and it was confirmed by patent, dated 11 July, 1670, with the ratification of parliament in the same year.

The FRASERS, a younger branch of the ancient family of Frézel de la Frézelière, in Anjou, are first found in Scottish record cir. 1160-66, when SIMON FRASER, of Keith, and Gilbert Fraser held lands in East Lothian. A second SIR GILBERT FRASER, sheriff of Traquair and Peebles, 1233, had four sons, John; Simon; Andrew; and William, which last was bishop of St. Andrews. 1279-97.

JOHN FRASER was father of Sir Richard Fraser, whose son, Sir Andrew Fraser, was father of Sir Alexander Fraser, chamberlain of Scotland, 1319-26, who m. cir. 1316, Mary (sister of King ROBERT I., and widow of Sir Neil Campbell, of Lochawe), by whom he had, 1 JOHN FRASER, whose only dau. and heiress Margaret, m. Sir William Keith, the Marischal, 2 Sir William Fraser, of Cowie and Durris, whose eldest son, SIR ALEXANDER

Fraser, m. 1375, Johanna (2nd dau. of William, Earl of Ross), and obtained with her the barony of Philorth. From him Alexander Fraser, of Philorth 10th Lord Saltoun, was 9th in descent.

William de Saye, who was summoned to parliament, but whose male line ceased with his son, JOHN, who was also summoned to parliament, and at whose decease the Barony of Saye devolved upon his (John's) sister, ELIZABETH DE SAYE, at whose decease, s. p. in 1399, it fell into ABEYANCE, as it still continues, between the descendants of her lady-ship's aunts, IDONEA, Lady Clinton, and JOAN, Lady Fiennes, (Refer to BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.)

Idonea, m. to John, 3rd Lord Clinton.
Elizabeth, who d. issueless.
Joan, who m. Sir William Fiennes, and whose son,

SIR WILLIAM FIENNES, was sheriff of Surrey and Sussex in 1297, and again in 1300. This Sir William m. Elizabeth, dau. and heir of William Battisford, and had two sons,

I. Roger (Sir), whose son,
  Richard, marrying Joan, dau. and heir of Thomas, Lord Dacre, was declared Lord Dacre in the 37th year of HENRY IV

And

Sir James Fiennes, who was summoned to parliament, 3 March, 1447, as Lord Saye and Sele, and created, on the 6th of the same month, in open parliament, the lords spiritual and temporal acquiescing, a baron of the realm, by the same title. His lordship had previously obtained a grant of the office of constable of Dover, and warden of the Cinque Ports, to himself and his heirs male for ever, and was constituted lord-treasurer of England in 1449. The ultimate fate, however, of this powerful noble marks the instability of greatness at the period in which he lived. Being a prisoner in the Tower when Jack Cade's mob entered the city of London, he was dragged by the riotous multitude from thence to the Standard at Cheapside, and there beheaded, 4 July, 1451. The baron was s. by his son (by his wife Emmeline Cromer, of Willingham, maternally, one of the co-heirs of Trillow),

William, 2nd Lord Saye and Sele. This nobleman obtained in 1461, a grant of the office of constable of Porchester Castle, and of Pevensey Castle, for life; and being one of the lords who attended the king into the north, was made vice-admiral to Richard Nevil, the great Earl of Warwick, then high-admiral of England. In the 10th year of Edward IV., he was one of the lords who fled with the king into Flanders; and upon his majesty's return, landed with him at Ravenspur, in Holdernesse, but was soon afterwards slain at the battle of Barnet, 14 April, 1471. His lordship m. Margaret Wykeham, dau. and heir of William Wykeham, son and heir of Sir Thomas Wykeham, otherwise Perot, Knt., son of William Perot, by Alice, his wife, dau. of William Champneis, by Agnes, his wife, sister of William of Wykeham, bishop of Winchester, and Founder of Winchester College and New College, Oxford. By Margaret Wykeham, Lord Saye and Sele acquired the lordship of Broughton, in Oxfordshire, and had a son and successor,

Henry Fiennes, who bore the title of Lord Saye, but was never summoned to parliament. He m. Anne, dau. of Sir Richard Harcourt, and dying 1476, was s. by his son,

Richard Fiennes, who likewise bore the title, but had no summons to parliament. He m. Elizabeth, dau. of Richard Crofts, Esq. of Chipping Norton, and was s. by his son,

Edward Fiennes, who did not take up the title, because his mother, who had m. Richard West, Esq., held the capital seat and the greater part of the estates. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Danvers, K.B. of Dantsay, Wilts, and was s. by his son,

Richard Fiennes, who m. Ursula, dau. of Richard Fermour, of Easton Neston, and dying 1579, was s. by his son,

Sir Richard Fiennes, Knt., who obtained a recognition of his claim to the Barony of Saye and Sele, by letters-patent from James I., dated 9 Aug. 1603, wherein the said barony was confirmed to himself and to his heirs general; but as he took his place in parliament as a junior baron, these letters appear to have been considered a new creation. He m. 1st, Constance, dau. of Sir W. Kingsmill, of Sidmanton; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Henry Coddingham, Esq. He d. in 1613, and was s. by his son,

William, 2nd baron under the new patent, created Viscount Saye and Sele, 7 July, 1624, who was one of the Commissioners of the Public Safety, and of the Treaty of Newport, and a distinguished leader in the contest between Charles I. and the parliament. At his lordship's house, at Broughton, the secret discussions of resistance to the Court took place. Clarendon reports of him that "he had the deepest hand in all the evils that befel the unhappy kingdom;" while Whitelock, a writer on the other side of the parliament, praises him as a statesman "of great parts, wisdom, and integrity." His lordship m. Elizabeth, dau. of John Temple, Esq. of Stow, Bucks, by whom he had (with five daus.),

I. James, his successor.
II. Nathaniel, col. in the parliament's army, commissioner of the great seal, privy councillor, and speaker of the other (of lords') house, under Cromwell. He left a son, William, who became 3rd viscount.
III. John, a colonel in the parliamentary army, and one of Cromwell's lords. His son, Laurence, became 5th viscount.
IV. Richard, m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Andrew Burrell, Esq., by whom he had two sons, who predeceased him; and 2ndly, Susanna, dau. of Sir William Cobb, of Adderbury, co. Oxford, and left,

Richard, in holy orders, rector of Oakley, Bucks, who m. Penelope, dau. of George Chamberlain, of Wardington, co. Oxford, and had (with four daus. one of whom, Vere-Alicia, m. Richard-Wykeham, Esq. of Swalcliffe), Richard, who s. as 6th viscount.

His lordship d. 11 April, 1662, and was s. by his eldest son,

James, 2nd viscount, who m. Frances, dau. and co-heir of Edward (Cecil), Viscount Wimbledon, 3rd son of Thomas, 1st Earl of Exeter, by Dorothy his wife, dau. and co-heir of John Nevill, Lord Latimer, descended from the Plantagenets (see Burke's History of the Royal Families), by whom he had three sons (all of whom predeceased him) and two daus.,

I. Elizabeth, m. to John Twisleton, Esq. of Barnby, co. York, and left an only child, Cecil, who m. George Twisleton, Esq., and had Fiennes, father of John, Anne, dau. of William Gardner, Esq. of Littlemore, co. Oxford, and dying in 1763, left

Thomas Twisleton, who claimed and was allowed the barony.

II. Frances, m. to Andrew Ellis, Esq., and had an only child, Cicely, who m. William Fiennes, Esq., and d. s. p.

His lordship d. in 1674, when the barony of Saye and Sele fell into abeyance between his two daus., but the viscountcy devolved upon his nephew,

William Fiennes, 3rd viscount, who m. his cousin, Mary Fiennes, and dying in 1696, was s. by his only son,

Nathaniel, 4th viscount, who d. unm. in 1710, when the viscountcy reverted to his cousin,

Lawrence Fiennes, as 5th viscount, who dying without issue in 1742, was s. by his cousin,

Richard Fiennes, as 6th viscount, at whose decease in 1781, s. p., the viscountcy expired; but the ancient barony, which had remained in abeyance since 1674, was claimed in the same year (1781) by Thomas Twisleton, of Broughton Castle, co. Oxford, as heir-general of James, 9th baron and 2nd viscount Saye and Sele, to the Hon. Elizabeth Fiennes, elder dau. and co-heir of the 2nd viscount, and her descendants), which claim in the line of the other dau., the Hon. Mrs. Ellis, having previously being allowed, he was summoned to Parliament, 15 Dec. 1781, as Baron Saye and Sele. His lordship m. 1st, Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir Edward Turner, Bart. of Ambrosden, co. Oxford, by Cassandra his wife, dau. of William Leigh, son of Theophilus Leigh, Esq. of Adlestrop and Longborough, and the Hon. Mary Bridges; and

I. Gregory-William, 11th baron.
II. Thomas-James, D.D., archdeacon of Colombo, Ceylon; b. 28 Sept. 1770; m. 1st, 26 Sept. 1788, Charlotte-Ann, dau. of John Wattell, Esq., by whom he had

1 Francis-Henry-Thomas, b. 26 June, 1790; d. 1792.

SCARBROUGH.

SCARBROUGH, EARL OF (Aldred-Frederick-George-Beresford Lumley), Viscount Lumley, and Baron Lumley, of Lumley Castle, co. Durham, in England; Viscount Lumley, of Waterford, in Ireland; lord-lieut. and custos rotulorum, W. Riding, co. York; late lieut. 7th Hussars, now lieut.-col. Yorkshire Dragoons; b. 16 Nov. 1857; s. his father as 10th earl 1884.

Lineage.

The surname of this family was assumed from Lumley on the Weare, in the bishopric of Durham, and the family deduces its lineage from

LIULPH, who m. Algitha, dau. of Aldred, Earl of Northumberland, by Edgina, dau. of ETHELDRED II. This Liulph, who was a nobleman of great popularity, was murdered by means of Leofwin, chaplain to Walcher, bishop of Durham; a crime soon after avenged by the populace of Durham, who sacrificed both the chaplain and the prelate to their just resentment. The elder son of Liulph was Uchtred, whose elder son was styled William de Lumley, m. Judith, dau. of Hesilden of Hesilden, and was s. by his only son, Sir William de Lumley, Knt., whose elder son, Sir William de Lumley, m. the dau. and co-heir of Sir Walter d'Andre, Durham, Knt., and was s. by his only son,

SIR ROGER DE LUMLEY, Knt., who m. Sybil, one of the daus. and co-heirs of the great Northumberland feudal baron, HUGH DE MOREWIC, and was s. by his elder son,

SIR ROBERT DE LUMLEY, who m. Lucia, one of the three sisters and co-heirs of William, Robert, and Thomas de Thweng, Barons Thweng, and was s. by his son,

SIR MARMADUKE DE LUMLEY, Knt., who first assumed the arms of the ancient house of Thweng, instead of those of Lumley (gu., six parrots, arg.). This Sir Marmaduke was s. by his eldest son,

ROBERT DE LUMLEY, who d. unm. 48th EDWARD III., and a minor, and was s. by his brother,

SIR RALPH DE LUMLEY, Knt., who was summoned to parliament among the barons of the realm from 1384 to 1399. This nobleman was a deputy-governor of Berwick-upon-Tweed, in the 15th of RICHARD II., and obtained royal permission, in the 16th of the same reign, to convert his manor-house of Lumley into a castle. His lordship joining subsequently, however, in the rebellion of Thomas de Holland, Earl of Kent, was attainted, and died in the field of battle. He had m. Eleanor, dau. of John, Lord Nevil of Raby, and left, with three daus., four sons; of whom the youngest, Marmaduke, was successively master of Trinity Hall, Cambridge, and chancellor of that university, bishop of Carlisle (1430), treasurer of England (1446), and bishop of Lincoln (1451). Thomas, the eldest son, d. a minor in 1404, and was s. by his brother,

SIR JOHN DE LUMLEY, Lord Lumley, who, doing homage in the 6th of HENRY IV., had livery of all castles, manors, and lands, whereof Sir Ralph Lumley, his father, was seised at the time of his attainder, and was restored in blood by parliament in 1411. This nobleman was actively engaged in the French wars of HENRY IV., and in those of HENRY V.; in the 9th year of whose reign he lost his life, with Thomas, Duke of Clarence, at the battle of Beaugé, in Anjou (13 April, 1421), and was s. by his only son,

SIR THOMAS DE LUMLEY, who obtained from parliament, in 1461, a reversal of the attainder of his grandfather, and was summoned as a baron, from 1461 to 1497, in which latter year he is supposed to have died. His lordship m. Margaret, dau. of Sir James Harrington, and was s. by his only son,

SIR GEORGE, Lord Lumley, who does not appear to have been summoned at any time to parliament. This nobleman was sheriff of Northumberland, a powerful office in those days, in the 2nd year of EDWARD IV. His lordship m.

Elizabeth, dau. and heir of Roger Thornton, Esq. an opulent merchant of Newcastle-upon-Tyne. His lordship's eldest son, Thomas Lumley, predeceasing him, left four sons and three daus., by his wife Elizabeth Plantagenet, natural dau. of EDWARD IV., by Lady Elizabeth Lucy. Lord Lumley d. in the 23rd year of HENRY VII., and was s. by his grandson,

RICHARD, Lord Lumley, who had summons to parliament in 1509. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of Sir John Conyers, K.G., of Hornby Castle, co. York, by whom he left two sons,

I. JOHN, his successor.

II. Anthony, who m. a dau. of Richard Gray, Esq., co. Northumberland, and left,

Roger, who m. Anne Kurtwich, and had, with other issue, Richard (Sir), of whom hereafter, as 1st VISCOUNT LUMLEY.

His lordship d. in 1511, and was s. by his elder son,

JOHN, Lord Lumley, summoned to parliament in 1514. This nobleman was one of the barons who signed, in the 22nd year of HENRY VIII., the memorable letter to Pope CLEMENT VII., intimating that unless his holiness complied with the king's wishes regarding his divorce from Queen CATHERINE, that the papal supremacy would be much endangered in England. But in the 28th of the same monarch, he was one of the chief of those northern lords who appeared in the insurrection, called the Pilgrimage of Grace; he shared, however, the royal clemency. His lordship m. Joan, dau. of Henry, Lord Scroop of Bolton, by whom he had an only son, George, who being implicated in the treason of Lord Darcy, Sir Thomas Percy, and others, was committed to the Tower and convicted and executed. He m. Jane, 2nd dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard Knightley, by whom he had,

JOHN, who was created Lord Lumley by parliament.

Jane, m. to Geffrey Markham, Esq.; and d. s. p.

Barbara, m. to Humphrey Lloyd, Esq. of Denbigh, and her descendant, the REV. DR. LLOYD, claimed, unsuccessfully, the Barony of Lumley in 1723. (See BURKE'S Dormant and Extinct Peerage.)

His lordship was s. by his grandson,

JOHN, who was restored in blood by an act of parliament passed in 1547, whereby it was enacted, that the said John and his heirs male should enjoy the dignity of a baron. This nobleman was one of the peers who sat in judgment upon MARY Queen of Scots, and Robert Devereux, Earl of Essex. His lordship m. twice; but dying issueless, 11 April, 1609, the ancient barony of Lumley expired (the act of parliament which restored his lordship to the dignity of Lord Lumley not having repealed the attainder of his father), as did the barony of the new creation, it being limited to heirs male only, while the estates devolved by his lordship's will, and by deed of settlement, upon his kinsman,

SIR RICHARD LUMLEY, Knt. (refer to the Hon. Anthony Lumley, 2nd son of Richard, 5th Lord Lumley), who was elevated to the peerage of Ireland, as Viscount Lumley, of Waterford, 12 July, 1628. This nobleman, adhering faithfully to the king during the civil wars, made Lumley Castle a garrison, and being a principal commander under Prince Rupert, marched with that general into the west of England, and was at the siege of Bristol, where he remained until its surrender, in 1645. His lordship m. Frances, dau. of Henry Shelley, Esq. of Warminghurst Park, in Sussex, and was s. on his decease by his grandson.

RICHARD, 2nd viscount (son of the Hon John Lumley, by Mary, dau., and eventually one of the heirs of Sir Henry Compton, K.B., of Brambletye, in Sussex), who was enrolled amongst the peers of England, 3 May, 1681, as Baron Lumley of Lumley Castle, with remainder, in default of male issue, to his brother Henry. His lordship was created, 10 April, 1689, Viscount Lumley, and 15 April, 1690, EARL OF SCARBROUGH. This nobleman was a military officer, and had a chief command at the battle of Sedgemoor, in 1685, wherein the unfortunate Duke of Monmouth was defeated. His lordship m. Frances, only dau. and heir of Sir Henry Jones, of Aston, co. Oxford, by Frances, his wife, sister of Thomas, Lord Fauconberg, and of Grace, mother of James, Earl Castleton; and dying in 1721, was s. by his second son (his eldest son, Henry, having predeceased him in 1710).

RICHARD, 2nd earl, K.G., at whose decease, unm. in 1739, the honours devolved upon his brother,

THOMAS, 3rd earl, K.B., who had assumed the surname of SAUNDERSON, by act of parliament, upon inheriting the estates of his cousin, James Saunderson, Earl of Castleton, in Ireland, at that nobleman's decease, 1723. His lordship m. Frances, dau. of George, 1st Earl of Orkney; and dying in 1752, was s. by his eldest son,

RICHARD, 4th earl; who m. 12 Dec. 1752, Barbara and heir of Sir George Savile, Bart. of Rufford, co. N ham, by whom he had issue,

I. GEORGE-AUGUSTA, his successor.

II. RICHARD, successor to his brother.

Nellie-Viola-Castalia-Florence, b. 3 July, 1885.

Lineage.

This eminent and historic family deduces its des from a period antecedent to the Conquest; the first pe of note, however, upon record is,

RICHARD DE TALBOT, mentioned in Domesday Boo holding nine hides of land from Walter Giffard, Ea Buckingham. This Richard m. the dau. of Gerard Gournay, Baron of Yarmouth, by whom he had sons,

I. GEOFFREY, progenitor of the TALBOTS of Bashal Yorkshire, now extinct in the male line.
II. HUGH.

The 2nd son,

HUGH DE TALBOT, ancestor of the house of Shrewsb was made governor of the castle of Plessey, in Essex his uncle, Hugh de Gournay, in 1118, (then in rebe against HENRY I.), after he had caused the king's gove to be put to death. Hugh de Talbot subsequently assu the habit of a monk, and retired into the monaster Beaubeck, in Normandy, leaving three sons, RICH William, and Hugh, by his wife Beatrix, dau. of Will de Mandeville. The eldest son,

RICHARD DE TALBOT, obtained from King HENRY a grant of the lordship of Eccleswall and Linton, Hereford, which grant King RICHARD I. confirmed two hundred marks. This Richard de Talbot m. a dau Stephen Bulmer, of Appletreewick, co. York, and was his eldest son,

GILBERT DE TALBOT, who was present at the corona of King RICHARD I., in the 5th of whose reign he had l given to him in Linton, for the custody of the cast Ludlow. In 1199, this Gilbert paid a fine of forty shill that he might not go beyond sea, and that he might the scutage of his own demesnes. He was s. by his son

ARD DE TALBOT, who m. Aliva, dau. of Alan Basset, of Wycombe, co. Bucks, sister of Gilbert Basset, of England, and widow of Dru de Montacute, by he had issue, Richard, who was elected Bishop of h, 46 HENRY III., but d. before consecration; and r son.

ERT DE TALBOT, his successor, who was made or of the castles of Grosmond, Skenfrith, and Blanc-, by King HENRY III., and constituted justice-at for the co. of Hereford, by the same monarch. He ndaline, dau. of Rhys ap Griffith ap Rhys ap Griffith s ap Tewdwr Mawr, King of South Wales, and ished, in consequence, his paternal arms, viz.: Bendy pieces, arg. and gu., to assume: A lion, rampant, a field, gu., within a bordure, engrailed, of the first, norial ensigns of the Princes of South Wales, which cendants have ever since borne. He d. in 1274, and by his son,

ARD DE TALBOT, feudal baron of Eccleswall, sheriff icester 28 EDWARD I.; who m. Sarah, dau. of William amp, Baron of Elmley and Earl of Warwick; and n 1306, was s. by his eldest son, GILBERT TALBOT, who being involved with Thomas enet, Earl of Lancaster, in the execution of Piers eston, Earl of Cornwall, had his pardon for the This Sir Gilbert, who was lord-chamberlain to the EDWARD III., had summons to parliament, as a in 1331; and dying in 1346, was s. by his son (by is wife, dau. of William, Lord Boteler, of Wem).

RICHARD TALBOT, 2nd baron, summoned to parlia-rom 1331 to 1355. This nobleman was an eminent r in the reign of EDWARD III., and was made a -banneret. He d. in 1356, possessed of immense (amongst which was Goderich Castle, co. Hereford, he chiefly resided), and was s. by his only son,

ERT, 3rd baron, summoned to parliament from 1362 . This nobleman m. 1st, Petronil, dau. of James , Earl of Ormonde, by whom he had an only son; dly, Joan, dau. of Ralph, Earl of Stafford, and was s decease, in 1387, by his son,

RICHARD, 4th baron; who having m. Ankaret, nd eventually sole heiress of John, Baron Strange kmere, was summoned to parliament (A.D. 1387) lifetime of his father, as "Ricardo Talbot de Black- and "Ricardo de Godericke Castell." This noble- in 1396, leaving five sons and four daus., of whom,

ERT s. his father.

, the 2nd son, was 1st Earl of Shrewsbury.

ard, the 3rd son, was Archbishop of Dublin, for thirty- years; during which period he was successively lord- ncellor, lord-justice, and lord-deputy of Ireland.

albot was s. by his eldest son,

GILBERT, 5th baron; who m. 1st, Joan, 2nd dau. of s (of Woodstock), Duke of Gloucester, youngest son g EDWARD III., by whom he had no issue; and Beatrix, of the illustrious house of Pinto, in Portu- y whom he left at his decease, in 1419, a dau. his sor,

ARET TALBOT; at whose decease, in minority, 13 Dec. he original Barony of Talbot, and that of Talbot of nere, devolved upon her ladyship's uncle

JOHN TALBOT, K.G., 6th baron; who having m. Maud, dau. and co-heir of Thomas Nevil, Lord Furnival, en summoned to parliament in 1409, as "Johannes de Furnyvall." He was appointed, in 1412, lord-jus- Ireland, and in two years afterwards, lord-lieutenant same kingdom: he governed there for seven years. Lord Talbot, whom Shakespeare terms "the great s of the field," was one of the most renowned captains warlike age he lived in. His earlier feats of arms nder HENRY V., in France, at the siege and capture aux. He was with the king when he died, in 1422, seems to have inherited the heroic spirit of his royal r. He gloriously sustained the cause of HENRY VI., hout his French realm, in battle after battle, until ry name of Talbot became a terror to Frenchmen. s, for a moment, checked in his career by the Maid ans, at Patay, in 1429, when his army being routed, he ken prisoner. He was exchanged for Ambrose de Lore, rated French partisan; and was soon in activity again, aster-mind and master-director of the fierce contest nce, doing good and effective service every day. In l, he was created, 20 May, 1442, EARL OF SHREWS- He was subsequently re-constituted lord-lieutenant land, and elevated to the peerage of that kingdom, y, 1446, as Earl of Waterford, having been appointed at the same time lord-high-steward of Ireland. After this, he went once more to fight in France. He commanded a fleet, landed and took Falaise, and, as Lieutenant of the duchy of Acquitaine, marched to the south and made Bordeaux surrender, and the surrounding minor towns send in instant submission. He thence advanced to the relief of Chastillon, and met the besieging French army commanded by their then greatest leader, Dunois, Bastard of Orleans. In the battle which ensued, 20 July, 1453, Talbot, in the eightieth year of his age, received a wound in the thigh, which proved immediately mortal. He had been victorious in forty different battles and dangerous skirmishes; his death proved fatal to the English dominion in France, which never flourished afterwards. The earl had two surviving sons by his 1st wife,

I. JOHN, his successor.
II. Christopher (Sir).

And by his 2nd, Margaret, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Richard Beauchamp, Earl of Warwick,

III. JOHN, who was created in 1443, Lord Lisle of Kingston Lisle in Berkshire; and in 1452, Viscount Lisle. His lordship fell endeavouring to rescue his father's body at the battle of Chastillon. He m. Joan, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Thomas Chedder, of Chedder, in Somersetshire, and left, with two daus.,

THOMAS, 2nd viscount. This nobleman having a dispute with Lord Berkeley, fell in a skirmish at Wooton-under-Edge, 20 March, 1469, when the viscountcy expired, but the extinction of the Barony of Lisle is doubtful (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage).

IV. Humphrey (Sir), marshal of Calais; d. s. p. in 1492.
V. Lewis (Sir), of Penyard, Herts.
1. Joan, m. to James, 1st Lord Berkeley.
II. Elizabeth, m. John Mowbray, 4th Duke of Norfolk.

His lordship was s. by his son,

JOHN, 2nd earl, K.G. lord-treasurer of Ireland during the administration of his father, and subsequently lord-treasurer of England. His lordship, true to his family's devotion to the Lancastrian cause, fell, with his brother Sir Christopher, at the battle of Northampton, 10 July, 1460, fighting for the Red Rose. The earl m. 1st, Catherine, dau. and co-heiress of Sir Edward Burnel, but had no issue. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of James Butler, Earl of Ormonde, and left (with other issue),

I. JOHN, his successor.
II. James (Sir), d. s. p.
III. Gilbert (Sir), of Grafton, co. Worcester, who was high-sheriff of Shropshire, temp. RICHARD III. but proved a stanch adherent of the Earl of Richmond at Bosworth, the right wing of whose army Sir Gilbert commanded in that memorable field, and received the honour of knighthood, with a grant of the manor of Grafton and other lands, for his valiant conduct, from the victor. In two years afterwards, Sir Gilbert had a command at the battle of Stoke, when the Earl of Lincoln and Lambert Simnel were defeated, and he was then made a knight-banneret. Sir Gilbert m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Henry, Lord Scrope, of Bolton, by whom he had two sons, Gilbert and Humphry, who both d. issueless. He m. 2ndly, Audrey, dau. of Sir John Cotton, Knt. and relict of Thomas Barton, Esq. and of Sir Richard Gardiner, lord-mayor of London, by whom he left at his decease, in 1516, an only son,

SIR JOHN TALBOT, of Albrighton, co. Salop, who eventually inherited the manor of Grafton. He m. 1st, Margaret, dau. and heir of Adam Troutbeck, Esq. of Mobberley, in Cheshire, and by her had a son,

1 JOHN (Sir), of Grafton and Albrighton, m. Frances, dau. of Sir John Giffard, Knt. and was father of,

JOHN (Sir), m. Catherine, dau. of Sir William Petre, Knt., secretary of state to Queen MARY, and left at his decease,

1 GEORGE, 9th Earl of Shrewsbury.
2 John, of Longford, co. Salop. m. Eleanor, dau. and co-heir of Sir Thomas Baskerville, Knt. of Wolvershill, and had (with other issue who d. unm.),

JOHN, s. his uncle, as 10th earl.

1 Anne, who m. Thomas Needham, Esq. of Shenton.

Sir John m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of Walter Wrottesley, of Wrottesley, and by her had a son,

2 JOHN, of Salwarp, ancestor of 3rd EARL TALBOT, who became 18th EARL OF SHREWSBURY.

Sir John, of Albrighton, d. 1549.

John, 2nd Earl of Shrewsbury, was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 3rd earl; who m. Catherine, dau. of Humphrey, Duke of Buckingham; and dying 1473, was s. by his son,

GEORGE, 4th earl; who was installed a knight of the Garter in 1488, for his valiant conduct at the battle of Stoke, 16 June, 1487. His lordship m. 1st, Anne, dau. of William, Lord Hastings, by whom he had six sons and five daus. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heir of Sir Richard

Walden, Knt. of Erith, in Kent, by whom he had one surviving dau. Anne, m. 1st, to Peter Compton, son and heir of Sir William Compton, Knt.; and 2ndly, to William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke. Lord Shrewsbury, d. 26 July, 1528, and was s. by his 2nd and eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 5th earl, K.G.; who had been summoned to parliament as a baron in the lifetime of his father (7 Feb. 1532-3). "This nobleman," says Lodge, "although of no ordinary abilities, appears to have been confined almost entirely to a military life. The bravery, prudence, and fidelity which had distinguished him in his important public situations during the reign of Queen MARY, induced ELIZABETH to retain him amongst those few servants of the late reign whom she admitted to her privy council when she mounted the throne; but his steady adherence to the religion of his ancestors probably obstructed his further promotion. Of the whole body of the temporal peers who had so lately, and unanimously, subscribed to the recognition of the temporal authority [of the papal see] only this nobleman and one more [Viscount Montagu] could now be found to oppose the revocation of that concession." He survived this uncourtly act of sincerity but a few months, and dying 25 Sept. 1560, was s. by his only son (by his 1st wife Mary, dau. of Thomas, Lord Dacre of Gillesland),

GEORGE, 6th earl, K.G. This nobleman had the custody of MARY, Queen of Scots, committed to his charge, in the 11th of ELIZABETH, and, nearly twenty years afterwards, assisted, with Henry Grey, Earl of Kent, at the unhappy MARY'S execution. He had been appointed, 16 Jan. 1571-2, at the arraignment of the Duke of Norfolk, lord-high-steward of England; and after the execution of that nobleman, earl-marshal. His lordship m. 1st, Gertrude, dau. of Thomas Manners, Earl of Rutland, by whom he had four sons and three daus.; and 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. and co-heiress of John Hardwick, of Hardwick, by whom he had no issue. Of this lady, Lodge says, "she had been already thrice married: to Robert Barley, Esq. of Barley, co. Derby; to Sir William Cavendish; and to Sir William St. Loo, captain of the guard to Queen ELIZABETH. She prevailed upon the first of these gentlemen, who died without issue, to settle his estate on her and her heirs, who were abundantly produced from her second marriage. Her third husband who was very rich, was led by her persuasions to make a similar disposition of his fortune, to the utter prejudice of his daughters by a former wife; and now, unsated with the wealth and caresses of three husbands, she finished her conquests by marrying the Earl of Shrewsbury, the richest and most powerful peer of his time. To sum up her character, she was a woman of a masculine understanding and conduct; proud, furious, selfish, and unfeeling. She was a builder, a buyer and seller of estates, a money-lender, a farmer, and a merchant of lead, coals, and timber. She lived to a great old age, and d. in 1607, immensely rich." The Earl of Shrewsbury was s. in 1590, by his eldest surviving son,

GILBERT, 7th earl, K.G.; who m. Mary, dau. of his step-mother, by Sir William Cavendish, and left three daus, viz.,

Mary, m. to William Herbert, Earl of Pembroke, and d. s.p.
Elizabeth, m. to Henry Grey, Earl of Kent.
Alathea, m. to Thomas Howard, Earl of Arundel.

Upon these ladies the greater part of the earl's estates devolved, and the Baronies of Talbot, Furnival, and Strange of Blackmere, fell into abeyance until the decease of the two elder without issue, when those dignities are presumed to have vested in Alathea, the 3rd dau. (See BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage.) The earldom passed to the deceased lord's brother,

EDWARD, 8th earl, at whose decease without surviving issue, 8 Feb. 1617, the earldom reverted to his kinsman,

GEORGE TALBOT, Esq. of Grafton, as 9th earl (refer to descendants of Sir Gilbert Talbot, of Grafton, son of John, 2nd earl). His lordship dying, however, unm., the peerage devolved upon his nephew,

JOHN, 10th earl (son of John Talbot, Esq., by Eleanor, dau. and heiress of Sir Thomas Baskerville, Knt. of Brinsop, in Herefordshire (see BURKE'S Landed Gentry). His lordship m. Mary, dau. of Sir Francis Fortescue, K.B., of Salden Hill, and had, with other issue,

I. FRANCIS, his successor.
II. Gilbert, m. Jane Flatsbury, and left,
  1 GILBERT, 13th earl.
  2 GEORGE, father of the 14th earl.

He was s. in 1653, by his eldest surviving son,

FRANCIS, 11th earl. This nobleman m. 1st, Anne, dau. and heiress of Sir John Conyers, of Sockburne, by whom he had an only surviving dau., Mary, m. to John Stonor, Esq. of Watlington Park, co. The only son,

The RIGHT REV. WILLIAM TALBOT, BISHOP OF DURHAM, was born at Stourton Castle, and was educated in Oriel College, Oxford, where he took his degree of M.A., 23 June, 1680. This prelate was the friend and protégé of Charles, Duke of Shrewsbury. He went into holy orders early in life, and obtained a rectory when very young. He was nominated by WILLIAM III. to the Deanery of Worcester, 23 April, 1691, and was, 24 Sept. 1699, consecrated Bishop of Oxford, with leave to hold his deanery in commendam. He continued in the See of Oxford till 1715, when he was made Bishop of Salisbury. He was further, 23 Sept. 1722, translated to the Bishopric of Durham, of which county he was lord-lieutenant and custos rotulorum. His lordship d. 10 Oct. 1730, having (by Catherine his wife, dau. of Alderman King, of the city of London) had, to survive to maturity, three sons and two daus.,

I. CHARLES, of whom presently.

II. Edward, Archdeacon of Berkshire; d. 1720.

II. Catherine, m. to Exton Sayer, LL.D.

The eldest son,

CHARLES TALBOT, b. 1684, called to the Bar by the Inner Temple, in 1710, attained the summit of his profession, and established the highest legal reputation. He was also an active politician, and was M.P. for Tregony and for Durham. On the 23 April, 1726, Mr. Talbot was appointed solicitor-general, which office he continued to fill until 29 Nov. 1733, when he was constituted LORD HIGH CHANCELLOR OF ENGLAND, sworn of the privy council, and elevated to the peerage, 5 Dec. following, by the title of Baron Talbot, of Hensol, co. Glamorgan. Lord Talbot is thus eulogised by Dr. Birch: "This noble lord obtained the honour and reverence of his country at a season when no foreign or domestic occurrence occasioned any remarkable event. In apprehension, he so far exceeded the common rank of men, that he saw by a kind of intuition the strength or imperfection of any arguments; and so penetrating was his sagacity, that the most intricate and perplexing mazes of the law could never so involve and darken the truth as to conceal it from his discernment. As a member of each House of Parliament, no man ever had a higher deference paid to his abilities, or more confidence placed in his public spirit; and so excellent was his temper and so candid his disposition in debate, that he never offended those whose arguments he opposed. Though removed at a time of life when others begin to shine, he might justly be said "satis et ad vitam et ad gloriam vixisse." Lord Talbot m. Cecil, dau. and heiress of Charles Matthews, Esq. of Castley-Menich, co. Glamorgan,* by whom he had,

I. WILLIAM, his successor.

II. John, M.P., m. 1st, May, 1737, Henrietta-Maria, dau. and co-heir of Sir Matthew Decker, Bart., but by that lady (who d. Dec. 1747) had no issue. II. Charles-Henry-Murray, b. 19 Dec. 1878.

I. Ada-Jane.
II. Margaret-Helen.
III. Georgina-Violet.

Lineage.

Two important families bearing the name of Sinclair (or St. Clair) co-existed in the 12th century, distinguished as of Rosslyn, in Midlothian, and of Herdmanstoun, in East Lothian. Though no relationship can be traced between them, the earlier bearers of the title of Lord Sinclair belonged to the former, while the later belong to the last-named family.

SIR HENRY SINCLAIR, of Rosslyn, in the time of Robert Bruce, was father of Sir William, who, with his brother John, was killed in Spain v. p., on his way to the East with the heart of his royal master. Sir William's son,

SIR WILLIAM SINCLAIR, of Rosslyn, who s. his grandfather, added greatly to the influence of his family by his marriage with Isabella, dau. and co-heir of Malise, Earl of Strathern, Caithness, and Orkney. His son,

HENRY SINCLAIR, acquired, through his mother, the Earldom of Orkney, coupled with conditions of fealty to the King of Norway, which would have made it impossible for him, in time of war, to retain both his Scottish and his Norse possessions. He was s. about 1400 by his son,

HENRY, Earl of Orkney, who, by his wife, Egidia, dau. and heir of Sir William Douglas, of Nithsdale (by the Princess Egidia, dau. of ROBERT II.), had,

WILLIAM, Earl of Orkney, Chancellor of Scotland, who had in 1455 a grant of the Earldom of Caithness, and in 1471 surrendered the Earldom of Orkney to the Crown, getting in its place Dysart, Ravensheugh, and the castle of Ravenscraig, in Fife. As the designation of Lord Sinclair is given him in several writs, it would appear that he was also made a Lord of Parliament by that title. He was the founder of the famous collegiate church, now known as Rosslyn Chapel. He m. 1st, Elizabeth, dau. of Archibald, 4th Earl of Douglas, and widow of John Stewart, Earl of Buchan, and of Sir Thomas Stewart (natural son of Alexander, Earl of Mar), by whom he had,

William, of whom as Lord Sinclair.
Katherine, m. Alexander, Duke of Albany, son of James II., and divorced 1477-8.

He m. 2ndly, Marjory, dau. of Alexander Sutherland, of Dunbeath, by whom he had, with other children, two sons, whose respective seniority has been disputed.

William, Earl of Caithness.
Sir Oliver, of Rosslyn.

The Earl of Caithness parted his possessions among the three sons above-named, bestowing merely Newburgh, in Aberdeenshire, on the eldest; the Earldom of Caithness on William, of the second marriage; and Rosslyn and the Fife estates on Sir Oliver. The eldest son.

William Sinclair, Master of Orkney, endeavoured to set aside his father's settlement, and succeeded in effecting an arrangement by which Sir Oliver, retaining Rosslyn, made over to him the lands in Fife. He is occasionally designed Lord Sinclair. He d. 1487, having m. Christian, dau. of George, 1st Earl of Rothes, and had a son,

Henry, Lord Sinclair (properly 4th, but generally called 1st lord, as being the first who held that title alone). In 1488 he had a parliamentary confirmation of his title as Lord Sinclair, as held by his father and grandfather. He m. Margaret, dau. of Patrick, 1st Earl of Bothwell, by whom he had a son, William, and three daus., Katherine, m. Sir David Wemyss, of Wemyss; Helen, m. James, 4th Lord Ogilvy, of Airlie; and Jean, m. Alexander, master of Crawford. His son,

William Sinclair, 2nd (properly 5th) Lord Sinclair, m. Elizabeth, dau. of William, 3rd Earl Marischal, and widow of Colin, Master of Oliphant and dying 1570, was s. by his son,

Henry 3rd Lord Sinclair. He m. 1st, Janet, dau. of Patrick, 6th Lord Lindsay, of the Byres, by whom he had, with other issue, 1 James, Master of Sinclair; 2 Patrick, ancestor of the family of Sinclair of Balgreggie, which became extinct in the male line on the death of John Sinclair, of Balgreggie, in 1710, and is represented by Aytoun of Inchdairney. He m. 2ndly, Elizabeth, dau. of William, 7th Lord Forbes, by whom he had, with other issue, a dau., Elizabeth, wife of Sir Duncan Campbell, of Glenorchy. Lord Sinclair d. in 1601, and was s. by his grandson, the son of his eldest son, James Sinclair, Master of Sinclair, who m. Lady Isabella Leslie, dau. of Andrew, 4th Earl of Rothes, by whom he had a dau., Margaret, wife of William, Lord Berriedale, and mother of George, 6th Earl of Caithness, and three sons successively Lords Sinclair.

Henry, 4th lord, s. his grandfather, 1601; d. 1602.

James, 5th Lord Sinclair, s. his brother, 1602; d. 1607.

Patrick, 6th Lord Sinclair, s. his brother in 1607. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir John Cockburn, of Ormiston, lord-justice-clerk, and dying in 1617, was s. by his only son,

John Sinclair, 7th Lord Sinclair, who m Lady Mary Wemyss, dau. of John, 1st Earl of Wemyss, by whom he had an only dau. Catherine, Mistress of Sinclair. Having no issue male, he made a settlement of his honours and estate in favour of the sons of his dau., and their issue male, bringing in after them the brothers of his son-in-law, and other strangers in blood. He d. in 1676, aged 66. His dau.,

Catherine Sinclair, Mistress of Sinclair, m in 1659, John St. Clair, eldest son of Sir John St. Clair, of Herdmandston, by whom she had, with two children who d. unm., a son, Henry, heir through her to the title and estates of her family. The Mistress of Sinclair d. 1666. Her son and successor,

Henry St. Clair, 8th Lord Sinclair, got, 1 June, 1677, a charter, under the great seal, in terms of the above-mentioned settlement of his grandfather, confirming the honours enjoyed by his predecessors, Lords Sinclair, with the former precedency, to him and the heirs male of his body; which failing to John, his brother-german, and his heirs male; which failing to Robert, George, and Matthew Sinclair, successively brothers-german to the said Sir John of Herdmandston, and the heirs male of their bodies; which all failing, to the said Henry, his nearest heirs male whatsoever.* Henry, 8th Lord Sinclair, was a man of great probity, and honour, and a devoted adherent of the House of Stuart. When he saw, at the convention of Estates, in 1689, that they were determined dethrone King James, and settle the crown on the Prince of Orange, he protested against the proceedings of the house. His lordship m. in 1680, Grizel, dau. of Sir John Cockburn, Bart. of Cockburn, and d. in 1723, leaving

I. John, } of whom hereafter.
II. James, }

I. Grizel, who became eventually heir of line of the Earldom of Orkney and Lords Sinclair. She m. John Paterson, of Prestonhall, in the co. of Edinburgh, eldest son of the late Right Rev. bishop of Glasgow, by whom she had a dau., Margaret, m. to John Thomson, of Charleton, in the co. of Fife, and James Paterson, a colonel in the army, who, on the death without issue, of his uncles, John, Master of Sinclair, and the Hon. General James St. Clair, succeeded to the family estates of Dysart, in the co. of Fife, and Rosslyn, in the co. of Edinburgh. He was the undoubted heir of line of the Earldom of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, and became St. Clair of Rosslyn, St. Clair and Dysart. Dying unm in 1789, he was s. by the representation of the Sinclairs, Earls of Orkney, and Lords Sinclair, by the descendant and heir of his only sister Margaret, who m. in 1744, John Thomson, of Charleton, in the county of Fife. The dau. and heir of this marriage, Grizel-Maria Thomson, heiress of Charleton, m., 1st, John Anstruther, 2nd son of Sir Philip Anstruther, 2nd Bart. of Balcaskie, by Catherine Hay, dau. of Lord Alexander, 2nd son of John, 1st Marquess of Tweeddale, by Lady Jean, dau. of Walter, Earl of Buccleugh. The son of this marriage, John Anstruther, assumed the additional name of Thomson on inheriting his mother's estate of Charleton. He is now representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair. He m. Clementina, only dau. of the Right Hon. William Adam, of Blair Adam, baron of Exchequer, lord-chief-commissioner of the Jury Court in Scotland, lord-lieutenant of the county of Kinross, by the Hon Eleanor Elphinstone, dau. of Charles, 10th Lord Elphinstone. His son, John Anstruther Thomson, now of Charleton, is representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, and heir of line of the 8th Lord Sinclair (see Anstruther, Bt.).

II. Catherine, wife of Sir John Erskine, Bart. of Alva, mother of Sir Henry Erskine, Bart., who, by his wife Agnes Wedderburn, sister to the Lord Chancellor, Lord Loughborough, Earl of Rosslyn, had issue, Sir James Erskine, Bart., who s. his maternal uncle as 2nd Earl of Rosslyn, and by special destination to the estates of Dysart and Rosslyn, on the death of his father's cousin, Colonel St. Clair, of Rosslyn and Dysart. He thereupon assumed the additional name of St. Clair. His grandson is Robert-Francis St. Clair-Erskine, 3rd Earl of Rosslyn.

III. Mary, m. as 2nd wife of Sir William Baird, 1st Bart. of Newbyth, and d. v. p. 23 Oct. 1756.

IV. Elizabeth, wife of David, 3rd Earl of Wemyss, and had issue two daus., 1 Elizabeth, Countess of Sutherland, and mother of William, 17th Earl of Sutherland; 2 Margaret, m. to James, 8th Earl of Moray.

By descent from these daus., of the 8th Lord Sinclair, Grizel, Catherine, and Elizabeth, John-Anstruther Thomson, of Charleton, is heir and representative of the Earls of Orkney and Lords Sinclair, through the former, while the Earl of Rosslyn is the heir of the second, and the Duke of Sutherland is heir of the youngest.

Henry, 8th Lord Sinclair, dying as aforesaid in 1723, was succeeded in the Sinclair estates by his eldest son,

John, Master of Sinclair, who, having been engaged in the Rebellion in 1715, was attainted, and never assumed the title of Lord Sinclair. He m. 1st, Lady Margaret Stewart, dau. of James, 5th Earl of Galloway, and 2nd, of 5th Earl of Southesk; and 2ndly, Amelia, dau. of George Murray, and sister to the 3rd Duke of Atholl. Dying without issue in 1750, his brother,

The Hon. James St. Clair, s. to the representation of the family. He was a general in the army, and a distinguished diplomatist. He or his brother, the Master of Sinclair, in 1735, purchased the ancient ancestral Castle of Roslin from the last heir of that cadet branch, and added it to the family estates. He m. Janet (who d. 1766), youngest dau. of the Hon. Sir David Dalrymple, of Hailes, Bart., and widow of Sir John Baird, 2nd Bart. of Newbyth. He d. s. p. 30 Nov 1762, when the estates went to his nephew and heir Colonel James-Paterson St. Clair, and the elder line came to an end by the extinction of the estate to which the attainted Master of Sinclair belonged, and the succession of a member of the house of Herdmanston, who did not share in the descent from the Sinclairs of Roslin.

The St. Clairs of Herdmanston derive their descent from Henry St. Clair, who was "vicecomes" of Richard de Granville, Constable of Scotland. In 1162, Henry St. Clair had a charter of the lands of Herdmanston, which have ever since continued in the family. Like his namesake and contemporary of Rosslyn, Sir William St. Clair, of Herdmanston, was the companion in arms of King Robert Bruce; who, on account of his heroic services at the

* As this charter does not specifically assert that there had been a resignation by Henry, Lord Sinclair, of his title, Mr. Riddell suggested a doubt whether such resignation could be presumed. If not, his inference was, that while a new title was created in 1677, with the precedence of the old, the original title continued to exist, the right to it being either in the heir male, the Earl of Caithness, or in the heir of line, Mr. Anstruther Thomson.

III. Elizabeth, m. to Sir Richard Knightley, of Norton, co Northampton.

After reaching the summit of ambition, and grasping th sceptre of unlimited authority, which he swayed during the first two years of his nephew's minority, the Protector Somerset was brought to the block, 22 Jan. 1552. (For a more detailed account of this eminent person, refer to BURKE'S Extinct and Dormant Peerage). His grace being attainted, his honours of course became forfeited, but his eldest son by his 2nd marriage,

EDWARD SEYMOUR, b. 12 Oct. 1537, was created by Queen ELIZABETH, in the first year of her reign, Baron Beauchamp and Earl of Hertford. He m. in 1560 Lady Catherine Grey, dau. and heir of Henry, Duke of Suffolk (and granddau., maternally, of Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, by MARY, Queen-Dowager of France, and sister of King HENRY VIII). This lady, who was sister of the amiable and unfortunate Lady Jane Grey, was herself not less unhappy. Upon her pregnancy being discovered, in 1563, she was committed prisoner to the Tower, as well as the earl her husband, where he was detained nine years, and fined by the Star chamber £15,000 for having vitiated a maid of the royal blood. The unhappy countess d. in confinement, 27 Jan. 1567, after giving birth to two sons, viz.:

I. EDWARD, who d. in 1602.

II. Edward, Lord Beauchamp, b. 21 Sept. 1561, who in 1608 (notwithstanding the Duke of Somerset's descendants by his 1st wife had lodged a petition against the claims of those of the 2nd to the family honours), obtained letters-patent that himself, and the heirs male of his body, immediately after the death of his father, should be barons of parliament and have place and voice therein; as also other letters-patent, the same year, for the enjoyment of the title of Earl of Hertford. He m. in 1585 Honora, dau. of Sir Richard Rogers, Knt. of Brianstone, co. Dorset; and d. before his father. He was buried at Bedwyn Magna, Wilts, 21 July, 1612, aged 50, and left issue,

1 EDWARD (Sir), K.B., who m. 21 June, 1609, Anne, dau. of Richard Sackville, Earl of Dorset; and d. without surviving issue, in Sept. 1618, before his grandfather. His widow m. 7 Oct. 1622, Sir Edward Lewes.

2 WILLIAM (Sir), who s. his grandfather.

3 FRANCIS (Sir), who was created BARON SEYMOUR of Troubridge, 19 Feb. 1641. This nobleman, b. about 1590, m. 1st, in 1620, Frances, dau. and co-heir of Sir Gilbert Prinne, Knt. of Allington, co. Wilts, by whom he had,

1 Honora, m. 16 July, 1610, Sir Ferdinando Sutton, K.B., son and heir of Edward, Lord Dudley, and had a dau., Frances, m. to Sir Humble Ward, K.B., created in 1644 Lord Ward. Lady Ward was created BARONESS DUDLEY, and d. in 1697. Her great-grandson, William Ward of Himley, was ancestor of the Earl of Dudley and Ward.

His lordship m. 2ndly, in 1635, Catherine, dau. of Sir Robert Lee, of Billesley, by Anne, his wife, dau. of Sir Thomas Lowe, lord mayor of London, but had no other issue. He d. 12 July, 1664, and was s. by his son,

CHARLES, 2nd Lord Troubridge, b. in 1621, who m. 1st, Mary, dau. and sole heir of Thomas Smith, Esq. of Foley, co. Wilts, and had a son and two daus., of whom Frances, the younger dau., m. Sir George Hungerford, Knt. of Cadenham, Wilts. His lordship m. 2ndly, in 1654, Elizabeth, dau. of William, Lord Alington (who was m. 2ndly, to Sir John Ernle, Knt. of Whetham, chancellor of the Exchequer temp. CHARLES II. and JAMES II., and d. in 1691), and d. 7 Aug. 1665, having had surviving issue,

FRANCIS, 5th Duke of Somerset.

CHARLES, 6th Duke of Somerset.

Honora, m. to Sir Charles Gerard, Bart., and d. in 1731.

The validity of the marriage (between the Earl and Lady Catherine Grey) was, however, subsequently tried and established at common law. His lordship m. 2ndly (licence 27 May, 1601), Frances, dau. of William, Lord Howard of Effingham; and 3rdly, Frances, dau. of Thomas, Viscount Howard of Bindon, and widow of Henry Pranell, Esq. of London; but had no other issue. (His widow m. 3rdly, as his 3rd wife, Ludovic Stewart, Duke of Richmond and Lennox, and d. 1639.) He lived to an advanced age, and dying 6 April, 1621, was s. by his grandson,

SIR WILLIAM SEYMOUR (b. 1588) as Earl of Hertford and Baron Beauchamp; who was created, 3 June, 1640, MARQUESS OF HERTFORD. On the 22nd June, 1610, this nobleman, without the consent or knowledge of his sovereign, JAMES I, secretly went through a form of marriage with that monarch's first-cousin, Lady Arabella Stuart, only dau. and heiress of Charles, 5th Earl of Lennox, and niece of Henry, Lord Darnley, the murdered consort of Mary, Queen of Scots. His lordship was, in consequence, obliged to fly the kingdom, while the unhappy Lady Arabella was committed a prisoner to the Tower, where she d. in her 40th year, 27 Sept. 1615. His lordship, returning to England in the reign of CHARLES I. was appointed governor to the Prince of Wales, afterwards CHARLES II, 1641–3. He took a most distinguished and gallant part in favour of royalty during the civil wars, and was conspicuous for his bravery during the defence of Sherborne Castle in 1642, a battle of Lansdowne in 1643. Subsequently, by th of the attainder of his eminent ancestor, his lor restored to the Barony of Seymour of Hache and t DOM OF SOMERSET, 13 Sept. 1660. Lineage.

In the reign of DAVID II., in 1358, a grant of the lands and barony of Carnegie, in Forfarshire, was made by Walterus de Maule to JOHN DE BALINHARD, who afterwards took the name of CARNEGIE. The charter runs thus:—"Quam quondam W. de Maule fecit et concessit Joanni filio et heredi quondam Joannis filii Christini, filii Joannis de Balinhard," &c. This last-named John was he who died c. 1275. Of the origin of the De Balinhards we have no record, all the early family charters having perished when the house of Kinnaird was burnt, in 1452.

GOCELYNUS DE BALINHARD witnesses several charters, &c. (undated, but, by collateral evidence, drawn out between 1294 and 1235), in the Arbroath and St. Andrew's chartularies; of his relationship, however, there is no proof.

JOHN DE BALINHARD, to whom the grant of the lands of Carnegie was made, and who afterwards took the name of CARNEGIE, was great-grandson of JOHN DE BALINHARD, who died c. 1275. He d. in 1370, and was s. by his son,

DUTHACUS DE CARNEGIE, who acquired from Robert, Duke of Albany, governor of Scotland, a charter, dated 21 Feb. 1409, confirming "Duthaco de Carnegy, omnes et singulas terras villæ de Kynnard, ac superioritatem brasinæ ejusdem," on the resignation of Mariota de Kynnard. [illegible]cus de Carnegie fell at the battle of Harlaw, in 1411, [illegible] an infant son,

WALTER DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who took [illegible] against the Earl of Crawford, at the battle of Br[illegible] 18 May, 1452, when his adherents were defeated [illegible] royal troops under the command of the Earl of H[illegible] and Walter de Carnegie's house of Kinnaird was bu[illegible] Crawford in retaliation. Walter Carnegie, of Ca[illegible] and John, his son, are mentioned in a perambulat[illegible] the muir of Balnamoon, 27 July, 1456. He d. in[illegible] leaving a son,

JOHN DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who, 4 Nov. 1480, [illegible] grant from his cousin, David, Earl of Crawford, of [illegible] rent out of the lands of Glenesk; and dying in 1508, [illegible] son, by his wife, a lady of the name of Vaus,

JOHN DE CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who fell at the ba[illegible] Flodden, 9 Sept. 1513, leaving by his wife, Eu[illegible] Strachan, a dau. Janet, m. to William Maule, of [illegible] and a son,

SIR ROBERT CARNEGIE, of Kinnaird, who had v[illegible] charters of lands in several counties. He was app[illegible] one of the Senators of the College of Justice, 4 July, [illegible] was sent to England next year, to treat for the reden[illegible] of the Earl of Huntly, chancellor of Scotland, taken [illegible] battle of Pinkie, and was knighted on his return. H[illegible] ambassador to France, 1550; had a great hand in perse[illegible] the Duke of Chatelherault to resign the regency to [illegible] of Lorrain; was a commissioner to treat with the Er[illegible] 1555 and 1557; was sent by the Lords of the Congre[illegible] in 1559, to France, to explain their views to Queen M[illegible] and d. 5 Jan. 1565. It is stated by some writers th[illegible] and his predecessors were cup-bearers to the kin[illegible] Scotland, but of this there is no proof. By Margar[illegible] wife, dau. of Guthrie of Lunan, he had issue,

I. JOHN (Sir), of Kinnaird, a man of great talent[illegible] worth, to the last a faithful and loyal subject to [illegible] MARY; he had charters to John, son and heir-app[illegible] of Robert Carnegy, of Kinnaird, and to Agnes Wo[illegible] wife, of the lands of Erlisfield, in Aberdeenshire, [illegible] 1546; to them of Balbardy, in Fife, and Sunderther[illegible] Forfarshire, 4 Oct. 1548; and, penult., Feb. 1549-50 [illegible] m. 1st, Agnes, dau. of David Wood, of Craig, compt[illegible] of Scotland, by whom he had a dau., Margaret, [illegible] Patrick Kinnaird, of Kinnaird, who granted a char[illegible] the dominical lands of Kinnaird, 6 Dec. 1567, to Ma[illegible] Carnegie, legitimate dau. of Sir John Carneg[illegible] Kinnaird, Knt. He m. 2ndly, Margaret Keith, wi[illegible] issue. Sir John d. 1595, without male issue.

II. DAVID, of whom presently.

III. John, who had a charter of the barony of Mar[illegible] Aberdeenshire, to John Carnegie, 3rd son of Sir [illegible] Carnegie, of Kinnaird, Knt., and Margaret Waus his [illegible] from her father, John Waus, of Many, dated 22 [illegible] 1555-6.

A great-grandson of this George Carnegie of Pittarrow is the present James Carnegie, Esq. of Stronvar, Perthshire, Ayton, Fifeshire, and Eastbury, Herts.

Sir John also had five daus. His eldest son,

SIR JAMES CARNEGIE, of Pittarrow, M.P. for the co. of Kincardine, on the demise of James, the 5th and attainted Earl Southesk, in 1729, became lineal male heir and representative of the family, and but for the attainder would have succeeded as 6th earl. He was a captain in the army, and endowed with very superior abilities. Through his exertions, the fortunes of the house of Southesk were restored. By unremitting efforts, Sir James brought about the sale of the forfeited estates, not only to the great advantage of his own family, but to the benefit of many others similarly situated. He had procured an assignation to a lease of Kinnaird many years before, made it his residence, and improved the lands, when agricultural pursuits were not yet common among gentlemen of his rank, and when his funds were limited in the extreme. He d. suddenly, 8 Jan. 1707, and was s. by his eldest son,

JOHN, 2nd earl, K.T., a military officer of high rank and renown, and a participator in the victories of the Duke of Marlborough. His lordship served as brigadier at the battle of Oudenarde in 1708, and was bearer of the despatches announcing the victory to England. He subsequently attained the rank of field-marshal, and was appointed commander of the forces on the Rhine, with which he served as second in command under King GEORGE II., in the battle of Dettingen; and afterwards of Her Majesty's forces in England. In 1715, Lord Stair went to France in a diplomatic capacity, and after the death of LOUIS XIV., was constituted ambassador-extraordinary to that court. The object of his embassy was of the utmost importance, and his manner of executing it the most brilliant and spirited. His lordship m. Eleanor, widow of James, Viscount Primrose, and dau. of James, 2nd Earl of Loudoun, but had no issue. In consequence of the marriage of his next brother and heir presumptive with a peeress, the earl surrendered, in 1707, all the honours to the crown, and obtained a new charter, containing, in default of male issue, a reversionary clause in favour of any one of the male descendants of the 1st viscount whom his lordship should name; in conformity with which his lordship executed a deed immediately prior to his decease, in 1747, appointing his nephew John, the son of his 2nd brother, George, his successor. But that nomination was contested by the Hon. James Dalrymple, 2nd son of the Hon. William Dalrymple, and the Countess of Dumfries; and the lords deciding in his favour, 2 May, 1748, he succeeded as

JAMES, 3rd earl; but dying without issue, in 1760, the honours reverted to his elder brother,

WILLIAM, as 4th earl; who had inherited the Earldom of Dumfries at the decease of his mother, Penelope, Countess of Dumfries. He m. Anne, dau. of William Duff, Esq. of Crosbie (see ABERDEEN, E.), but dying in 1768, without issue, the Earldom of Dumfries passed into the right line, and the honours of the house of Stair reverted to his cousin,

JOHN, 5th earl; the personage who had already been defeated under his uncle's nomination, but had then succeeded to his uncle's fortune without dispute (refer to George, of Dalmahoy, youngest son of 1st earl). His lordship m. Miss Middleton, dau. of George Middleton, Esq., a banker in London; and dying in 1789, was s. by his only son,

JOHN, 6th earl, one of the representative lords; British ambassador to the court of Prussia. This nobleman d. without issue, 1 June, 1821, when the honours reverted to his cousin,

JOHN-WILLIAM-HENRY DALRYMPLE, Esq., as 7th earl (refer to descendants of George, of Dalmahoy, youngest son of 1st earl). ROGER, Lord Grey of Groby, b. 27 Oct. 1896.

Lineage.

HENRY DE GREY obtained from King RICHARD I the manor of Turroc in Essex, and had the same confirmed by King JOHN, with the privilege of hunting the fox and hare in any lands belonging to the crown except the king's own demesnes. In the reign of HENRY III., he had a grant of the manor of Grimston, co. Nottingham, from Robert Bardolph, whose niece and co-heiress, Isolda, he married, and eventually shared in the inheritance of all the said Robert's lands. From his 2nd son by this lady,

JOHN DE GREY, descended the lords Grey de Ruthin, (see BURKE'S Extinct Peerage) the extinct Earls and Dukes of Kent, the extinct Dukes of Suffolk, the Earls of Wilton, and the house of which we are now treating. The 2nd son of Reginald, 3rd Lord Grey de Ruthyn,

SIR EDWARD DE GREY, m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Henry, son and heir-apparent of William, 5th Lord Ferrers, of Groby, and in consequence assumed that title. His lordship d. in the 36th year of HENRY VI., and was s. by his eldest son,

SIR JOHN DE GREY, as 7th Lord Ferrers of Groby, who m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Richard Widvile, Earl of Rivers, by whom he had two sons. Sir John fell at the battle of St. Albans, fighting under the banner of HENRY VI., in the 39th year of that prince's reign, and his widow became subsequently queen-consort of EDWARD IV. Sir John Grey's eldest son and heir,

SIR THOMAS GREY, through the influence of his mother, was created, in the 11th year of EDWARD IV., Earl of Huntingdon, and in four years afterwards advanced to the Marquessate of Dorset. After King EDWARD'S death, however, his lordship was attainted of high treason, but restored upon the elevation of HENRY VII. to the throne. He d. 10 April, 1501, and was s. by his eldest surviving son (by his 2nd wife, Cicely, dau. and heiress of William Bonville. Lord Bonville and Harrington),

THOMAS, 2nd Marquess of Dorset, K.G. This nobleman carried the sword of state at the celebrated meeting between HENRY VIII. and FRANCIS I. at Ardres, in 1520. He m. Margaret, dau. of Sir R. Wotton, Knt., and had (with two daus.) four sons, HENRY, his heir; Thomas, beheaded in 1555, for participating in Wyatt's rebellion, d. s. p.; Leonard, also attainted and beheaded, 1521, d. s. p.; and John, who, by Mary, dau. of Sir Anthony Browne, Knt., K.G., left an only son, HENRY, of whom hereafter, as Lord Grey of Groby. The Marquess of Dorset d. 10 Oct. 1530, and was s. by his eldest son,

HENRY, 3rd marquess, who m. for his 2nd wife, Frances, eldest dau. and co-heiress of Charles Brandon, Duke of Suffolk, by Mary, Queen-Dowager of France, and sister of King HENRY VIII., and was in consequence advanced, 11 Oct. 1551, to the DUKEDOM OF SUFFOLK, and installed a knight of the garter. The issue of this marriage was three daus.; the eldest, the amiable and unfortunate Lady Jane Grey, having, through the ambition of her father and father-in-law, for a few days usurped the empty trappings of royalty, was attainted, and subsequently in consequence of her father's second rebellion, brought, with her husband, Lord Guildford Dudley, to the block, 12 Feb. 1554-5. Lady Catherine Grey, the 2nd dau., marrying Edward Seymour, Earl of Hertford, without the permission of Queen ELIZABETH, was committed to the Tower by her majesty, where she died, 26 Jan. 1567: while the 3rd, Lady Mary Grey, m. Martin Keys, Esq. of the co. Kent, serjeant-porter to Queen ELIZABETH, and d. without issue in 1578. The unhappy father, having rebelled again after the Queen's pardon, suffered soon after his eldest dau., 23 Feb. 1554-5, and his brother, Thomas, 27 April following. From that period the honours of the family were eclipsed until revived by King JAMES I., who created

SIR HENRY GREY, Knt. (son of Lord John Grey, of Pirgo, co. Essex, and only nephew of the attainted duke), 21 July, 1603, Lord Grey of Groby, co. Leicester. His lordship m. Anne, dau. of William, Lord Windsor, of Bradenham; and dying in 1614, was s. by his grandson,

HENRY, 2nd Lord Grey of Groby (son of the Hon. Sir John Grey, by Elizabeth, dau. of Edward Nevil, Lord Abergavenny), who was created EARL OF STAMFORD, co. Lincoln, 26 March, 1628. His lordship m. Lady Anne Cecil, youngest dau. and co. heiress of William, Earl of Exeter, in whose right he became possessed of the castle, borough, and manor of Stamford. The earl was a parliamentary military commander during the civil wars, as was his son Lord Grey, who predeceased him. (The latter was one of the judges upon the trial of the unfortunate CHARLES, and his signature appears to the warrant for execution). The earl d. in 1673, and was s. by his grandson, THOMAS, 2nd earl. His lordship m. twice; but leaving no issue at his decease, 31 Jan. 1719-20, the honours reverted to his cousin,

HARRY GREY, Esq., as 3rd earl (grandson of the 1st earl, through his 3rd son, the Hon. John Grey, of Enville Hall, Salop, by his 2nd wife Catherine, eldest dau. of Edward, Lord Ward). His lordship m. Dorothy, dau. of Sir Nathan Wrighte, Knt., Lord-keeper of the great seal; and dying in 1739, was s. by his eldest son, Oxford, High Sheriff 1886, formerly capt. gren. guards; b. 19 March, 1831; s. his father as 8th bart. 1874; m. 5 Sept. 1878, Mary-Catherine, dau. of Adam Steuart Gladstone, Esq., and has a dau., Clara-Florence-Mary, b. 2 Oct. 1879.

Lineage.

The family of STAPLETON, which derived its surname from a town in the county of York, is no less famous for the gallant warriors it produced in different eras, than by the dignities and honours conferred upon them by the sovereigns under whose rule they had the good fortune to flourish. Amongst even the Knights of the Garter, upon the institution of that noble order, we find a person of the name and family.

They subsequently transplanted themselves into Ireland, and enjoyed a considerable estate in Tipperary until the reign of CHARLES I, when John Edmund Stapleton, Esq. of Thorlesbegg, being completely ruined by his adhesion to the royal cause, the family sought new fortune in the different foreign lands of Europe. Some went into Spain, where they attained high military rank; others into France, and there also, adopting the soldier's profession, became eminent in arms. Of the latter, a branch acquired a large estate at Dervalliers, near Nantes, in Bretagne, and bore the title of Counts of Tréves.

SIR JOHN STAPLETON, Knt., settled in Ireland, temp. HENRY II., and from him we pass to his lineal descendant,

RICHARD STAPLETON, who obtained, in 1566, from Queen ELIZABETH, an exemplification of a grant from King JOHN to the said Sir John Stapleton, Knt., of some confiscated lands in Ireland. He m. Eleanor Butler, of the house of Dunboyne, and was s. by his son,

Lineage.

There has been much controversy about the origin and early history of this family; Sir Henry Steuart (the 1st baronet), and Mr. George Robertson maintained the descent from Sir Robert Stewart of Daldowie, said to be 6th son of Sir John Stewart of Bonkyl, the progenitor of the Stewarts of Lennox, Darnley, and Castlemilk; while Mr. Andrew Stuart of Torrance, and Mr. John Riddell held that there was no proof of the existence of Sir Robert, or of his four successors. The views of Mr. Robertson and Mr. Riddell appeared as contributions to the early volumes of Blackwood's Magazine, and have been published separately under the title of "The Saltfoot Controversy." According to Mr. Riddell the first recorded ancestor was,

JAMES STEWART, styled by Robertson "of Daldowie and Allanton," who had issue (with two daus., Marion and Isabella),

I. Adam, to whom as son and heir of James Stewart of Daldowie, Walter Scot of Westenflar is said to have given a charter, 16 Aug. 1493, of certain heritages in Lanark. He seems to have d. s. p.

II. ALLAN.

ALLAN STEWART, m. Elizabeth, dau. of David Tait. In his will dated 1548, he mentions his son Gawine, and his dau. Euphame, but Robertson ascribes to him an elder son and successor, Adam.

Sir Michael is 17th in male descent from Sir John Stewart, son of ROBERT III., king of Scotland.

Lineage.

Among the archives of this ancient family, there are preserved three charters by ROBERT III. to SIR JOHN STEWART his son, of the lands of Ardgowan, Blackhall, 2nd Auchingoun, in the county of Renfrew, dated 1390, 1396, and 1405. These several lands have lineally descended in an uninterrupted course of male succession, from the said Sir John Stewart, illegitimate son of ROBERT III., to Sir Michael, the present baronet.

JOHN STEWART, of Blackhall and Ardgowan, obtained from JAMES IV., anno 1508, a confirmation of the charters granted by King ROBERT to his ancestor, of the lands aforesaid.

Lineage.

The parent stock of this family was settled previously to the Norman Conquest at Strickland, or Stirkland (as anciently written), co. Westmorland, where it continued for several generations,* until

WILLIAM DE STRICKLAND having m. Elizabeth, dau. and heiress of Sir Ralph D'Aincourt, of Sizergh, co. Cumberland, removed thither, and from him lineally descended two brothers,

* Sir Thomas de Strickland bore the Banner of St. George at the battle of Agincourt.

Charles Strickland, Esq. of Standish, who bore the surname of Standish: and Thomas Strickland, Esq. of Sizergh, father of Walter Charles Strickland, Esq. of Sizergh (see Burke's Landed Gentry).

The founder of the branch more immediately before us was

Roger Strickland, of Marsk (supposed to be a younger branch of the house of Sizergh), who m. Mary Appleton, and was father of,

William Strickland, or Strykeland, who is said to have accompanied, in his youth, Sebastian Cabot in some of his voyages of discovery to the New World, and after his return to have purchased Boynton and other estates still possessed by his descendants. He obtained a grant of arms, as at present borne, in 1550, and appears to have been the same person who was repeatedly elected M.P. for Scarborough from 1558 to 1585. He m. Elizabeth, eldest dau. of Sir Walter Strickland, Knt. of Sizergh, by Catherine his wife, sole dau. and heir of Sir Ralph Neville, Knt. of Thornton Briggs, and d. at an advanced age in 1598, leaving two sons, Walter of Boynton; and William, of Easton, who m. 1585, Catherine Carteill, of Sewerby. The former,

Walter Strickland, Esq. of Boynton, m. Frances, dau. of Peter Wentworth, Esq. of Lillingston Dayrell, co. Bucks, by whom he had, with four daus., two sons, Walter, the 2nd son, enjoyed the confidence of the Usurper Cromwell, and was called by him to the other house of parliament (as the house of peers was then denominated) by the style of Lord Walter Strickland.

Mr. Strickland d. in 1635, and was s. by his elder son,
